MISHAWAKA

MISHAWAKA WINS WITH PORTER'S ASSISTANCE

Clever Twirling Holds Down Fast Colored Team From the South—Home Runs Are Features.

Mishawaka squeezing in two runs in the seventh and Porter's air-tight pitching after the fourth inning succeeded in winning the game for the city team Friday afternoon at the north side diamonds from the French Lick Plutos by a score of 8 to 6. The game was exciting throughout and it has been many a day since such a fast game has been witnessed in Mishawaka. The Plutos were fast in every action of the game, but the pitching staff for the visitors fell down in the early part of the contest and had it not been for the assistance of two substitute twirlers there was no telling where the score might have ended. Mishawaka with her three new players in action played a wonderful game, displaying great form and consistency.

Mishawaka took the first count of the contest in the first inning when Jones hit to the infield. On an error he secured first and later went to second when Demoss missed Squibbs' grounder. He took third on Weber's death at first and scored when Williams singled to short.

A home run hit over the right field fence by Norman of the Plutos, was the first count for the visitors. Norman's smash somewhat disheartened the locals, but when Heath, Davis and Crow went down in one, two, three, order, things looked as if there might be some hope. Again in the third the visitors scored three runs. Demoss placed to right and secured one base. Hannon dished, taking three bags and bringing Demoss home. Lynch secured second base with a hit and wild throw and Heath came up for a long drive to far center. Hannon and Lynch crossed the plate for two more runs.

In the last of the third Mishawaka battled hard and were able to come back with five counts. Squibbs opened the inning by popping fly to left and Weber evaded up with the visitors with a long fly over right field fence for a home run. Williams hit to center and secured first, while Philion drove to left, moving Williams up to second. Raab died to the pitcher and Trowbridge burnt one to short, bringing in Williams from third. Murphy was allowed to walk. Porter, the fast little pitcher, displayed that he was there with both the stick and the arm and slammed one to the fence, between left and center, bringing Philion, Trowbridge and Murphy home. Jones closed the inning with a fast short fly to center which the fielder caught, securing applause from the fans.

The visitors tied the score in the fourth, but Mishawaka again came back in the seventh with two more runs, winning the game. The contest was featured throughout with sensational plays and efforts. Weber's work at second was applauded time after time, while the new men from the east are proving a valuable asset to the team. Portem came in for considerable credit for the victory of the team. Philion, the old time favorite, is back at first and displayed well.

MEDIATION ENVOYS

PREPARE TO QUIT IN TWELVE HOURS

Continued from page one. The state department has direct information showing that far from having patched up their differences, Carranza and Villa are at daggers points with Carranza powerless to interfere with Villa's usurpation of Carranza's civil functions.

With the eruption between Carranza and Villa charges and counter charges concerning the two constitutionalist leaders are beginning to fly about Washington. Carranza agents here Friday accused the Guzmanheim interests of having fomented the break between Carranza and Villa. They declare that Villa has obtained close to a half million dollars from the American Mining and Smelting company in return for which their present properties in Mexico are to be protected by the rebels and for which they are to obtain substantial concessions when the constitutionalist cause triumphs.

When General Carranza accepted Villa's resignation it is charged that the smelting company, fearing Carranza would not be as tractable as Villa urged the latter to openly revolt. Denial Part True. The source of this information claims that a denial on the part of the smelting company that it has contributed money to Villa is true as to the letter of the statement, but not as to spirit. The money, it is charged, was not given directly to Villa, but through an intermediary.

The personal representative of Villa received a telegram from him Friday night outlining the agreement between him and Carranza. The message stated that Carranza was to be allowed to retain the title of "first chief of the constitutionalists" and had bound himself to confine his activities to the civil functions of the government.

The military movements of the rebel armies are to be directed by a board of strategy composed of representatives from the various divisions at the head of which will be General Angeles, whom Villa has selected for the post.

The board will travel with the main army and outline the campaign, allowing the division commanders all details as to details of execution. This arrangement places Villa in supreme command of the constitutionalist forces as the board will accompany his army and will be subservient to his wishes. Carranza will be notified of all plans and as he is the nominal commander-in-chief of the army will go through the formality of approving them.

Carranza's followers while they do not relish the turn which has made Villa the dominant figure welcome a solution that has at least kept the constitutionalist cause a single entity and has not resulted in Villa's banishment of Carranza.

TORREON, Mexico, June 26.—Having impressed upon his political enemies the fact that he is supreme in rebel territory, General Pancho Villa Friday devoted his attention to final stage of his campaign against General Huerta. "On to Mexico City" has become the slogan of the rebel army and Friday night the combined armies of the north were moving along the Mexican Central railway, 35,000 strong, to drive the federals from their garrisoned cities, lying between Torreon and the national capital. Failure of the A. B. C. mediators to reach an agreement will not affect Villa's plans it was announced here Friday. The rebel leader has for days felt that mediation would be a failure and he has planned to carry out his campaign without considering the quarrel between Huerta and the United States. So long as the Americans keep off strictly rebel territory, Villa let it be known Friday the constitutionalists will raise no objections to an invasion of Huerta's territory. Villa Friday reiterated his statement that the rebels have no quarrel with the United States, but that on the other hand they regard the Americans as friends and are willing to have them assist in the elimination of Huerta.

There is now a perfect understanding between Villa and Carranza, it is stated here tonight. Carranza knows that he has no authority and will not try to exercise any. He has been permitted by Villa to retain the title of first chief, but he and all the rebels know that it is an empty title and that Villa must be considered on all important questions.
